GEORGIA JONES

CEO & Founder

From recovery to reality, Georgia Jones has committed herself to helping to rebuild lives. She founded The Potter's House Substance Abuse Center in 2005.

RECOVERY

Having survived the destruction caused by her own addictions for over sixteen years; over 30 years later, Ms. Jones is helping to heal hundreds of others who suffer from the same disease of substance abuse problems that she conquered.

REALITY

Georgia's non-judgmental compassion for addicts who suffer from addiction enables her to give back to Arizona's communities.

ABOUT US

The Potter's House Substance Abuse Center (TPHSAC) is an outpatient substance abuse Treatment Program. Our objective is to provide clinically sound outpatient substance abuse treatment to men and women 18 and older of all ethnic groups, who are experiencing substance use disorders (abuse, dependency), including education of criminal offenders.

TPHSAC's programming objective is to meet the needs of the referring agencies as well as being culturally responsive to the minority/African-American population of substance abusers and criminal offenders.

The Potter's House employs licensed mental health and substance use disorder counselors. Each counselor shares the founder's passion and commitment to healing lives.

OUR MISSION

The Potter's House Substance Abuse Center (TPHSAC) was established to rebuild shattered lives by providing those suffering from addiction with the tools necessary to begin living a meaningful, balanced lifestyle.

MRT fits well with our mission, which is to rebuild shattered lives by restructuring our client's level of moral decision making. It is also the goal of TPHSAC to provide every person it serves the opportunity to achieve long-term sobriety and a life balance with a lasting change.

AN INNOVATIVE APPROACH

The Potter's House has now implemented Moral Reconciliation Therapy (MRT): A systematic cognitive-behavioral, step by step treatment strategy designed to promote positive self image and identity, help clients learn positive social behaviors and beliefs, and begin to make their decisions from higher levels of moral judgment.

MRT is widely recognized as an "Evidence-Based Practice" as well as a "Best Practice" by SAMHSA and NREPP who are National treatment authorities. Consistent research outcomes from a host of MRT implementations show that MRT participants have significantly lower levels of rearrests and incarcerations even with participants who graduated for a full 10 years.
